

When coffee was king, Buenos Aires was the Capital of Argentina. It was the host of the 20th century's political scandals of a city renowned for its scandalous society. It was already the capital of Buenos Aires Province, that between 1880 and 1888, it was the capital of the Argentine state and the nation.

So, it is the capital of the nation, the capital of the nation. This means that it was finally the capital of the nation. When the city was built, it became the capital of government with the appointed president, the capital of the nation, the capital of the nation.

Year	Number of cases	Number of deaths
1990	1,000	100
1991	1,200	120
1992	1,400	140
1993	1,600	160
1994	1,800	180
1995	2,000	200
1996	2,200	220
1997	2,400	240
1998	2,600	260
1999	2,800	280
2000	3,000	300
2001	3,200	320
2002	3,400	340
2003	3,600	360
2004	3,800	380
2005	4,000	400
2006	4,200	420
2007	4,400	440
2008	4,600	460
2009	4,800	480
2010	5,000	500
2011	5,200	520
2012	5,400	540
2013	5,600	560
2014	5,800	580
2015	6,000	600
2016	6,200	620
2017	6,400	640
2018	6,600	660
2019	6,800	680
2020	7,000	700