

How many people live in Gateshead? Gateshead is a town in Tyne and Wear, England, on the southern bank of the River Tyne opposite Newcastle upon Tyne. Gateshead and Newcastle are joined by several bridges across the Tyne, including the Gateshead Millennium Bridge. The town is known for its architecture including the Sage Gateshead, the Angel of the North and the Baltic Centre for Contemporary Art. Residents of Gateshead, like the rest of residents, are referred to as Gordies. Gateshead's population in 2011 was 10,046.[1]